

HIGHVELD
ROBUSTEEL

Company Profile

About Us

The leading strategic partner in the steel, mining, minerals beneficiation and infrastructure sectors within the Southern African Development Community – SADC

Highveld Robusteel acquired the remainder of the iron and steelmaking assets of Evraz Highveld Steel & Vanadium Limited in 2021. The assets are housed within the Highveld Industrial Park, a major industrial hub in Mpumalanga, South Africa with a full suite of shared services, logistics and waste facilities provided within and by the park.

The company has deep technical and managerial expertise under contract provided by highly qualified industry experts with in-depth understanding of the assets and the steel sector. This experience and strategic location of the assets makes Highveld Robusteel a potential significant supplier of steel products to the domestic and global markets.

The state-of-the-art plant envisioned will offer both agility and competitiveness to enable Highveld Robusteel to challenge the existing players within both the local and international market.

At full production, Highveld Robusteel will produce vanadium bearing pig-iron, various flat steel products, vanadium pentoxide slag, vanadium pentoxide and structural blooms.

Highveld Robusteel is a strategic player in South Africa's steel sector with a firm commitment to socio-economic development and sustainable growth. Since acquiring the former Evraz Highveld Steel & Vanadium assets in 2021, the company has been focused on reviving industrial capacity while creating employment opportunities and empowering local suppliers in Mpumalanga.

Through investments in skills transfer, artisanal training, and enterprise development, Highveld Robusteel is building a capable local workforce and supply chain to support long-term competitiveness. Our socio-economic programmes align with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, addressing key priorities such as poverty reduction, inequality, and sustainable industrialization.

With initiatives like the 32 MW co-generation project to ensure energy security and reduce carbon emissions, Highveld Robusteel demonstrates its ability to combine operational excellence with environmental responsibility. We are positioned as a reliable and ethical partner, delivering value to investors while driving inclusive growth and transformation within South Africa's industrial landscape.
